10 Free PLACES TO VISIT

Some of DC's most meaningful, unexpected experiences don't require admission. They're the places where America's story unfolds – through trials and triumphs, creativity and curiosity, and the ideas that continue to shape who we are. As the nation marks its 250th birthday, these free attractions invite visitors to explore the past, engage with the present and reflect on what it means to be an American – all in the only place where the full story comes together.

OFFICIAL VISITORS GUIDE

1 NATIONAL MUSEUM OF THE AMERICAN INDIAN

Indigenous history and art make this immaculately designed museum a modern marvel. Acclaimed Ho-Chunk artist Truman Lowe is honored with a retrospective through Jan. 2027.

2 MILKEN CENTER FOR ADVANCING THE AMERICAN DREAM

The American Dream Experience offers cool features like Hologram Ambassadors, an interactive Word Cloud and a Tree of Generations with 1,000 OLED images.

3 NATIONAL GALLERY OF ART

Home to the only Da Vinci painting in the Americas, the two-building museum celebrates artistic triumphs by women artists with Women and the Index of American Design (Jan. 17–May 31) and Mary Cassatt: An American in Paris (Feb. 14–Aug. 30).

4 ALBERT EINSTEIN MEMORIAL

Just off the National Mall, a four-ton bronze statue depicts the scientific genius at rest and reminding us with his papers that  $E = MC^2$ .

5 SMITHSONIAN NATIONAL ZOO

ACCESSIBLE Experiences

Washington, DC is one of the most accessible cities in the world, winning first place for Accessible Destination of the Year at the UK's JRN America Awards in 2025, and the city's hospitality industry is equipped and ready to welcome visitors with disabilities.

📍 Yards Park

FUN FOR *All

FOR MORE ACCESSIBLE TOURISM INFO,
VISIT WASHINGTON.ORG/ACCESSIBILITY

The following attractions maintain dedicated web pages outlining their accessibility features, including ramps, sign language-interpreted tours and wheelchairs.

SMITHSONIAN MUSEUMS

From free manual wheelchair loans to sign language interpretation to Aira Access and more, the Smithsonian Institution works to make all visitors feel welcome. Explore their website to view an accessibility map and to contact the hosting museum in advance to arrange tours.

U.S. CAPITOL

Experience interactive exhibits or tour the many rooms — however you like to explore, the U.S. Capitol makes it easy to find an accessible way to do so. The Office of Congressional Accessibility Services can provide tours specifically designed for visitors with disabilities.

NATIONAL MALL

The National Mall embraces accessibility, from offering braille brochures to closed captioning and more. All major monuments and memorials are wheelchair accessible. Before visiting, it is encouraged to email or call to provide advance notice.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS INCLUDE:

- Hillwood Estate, Museum and Gardens
- International Spy Museum
- The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts
- Library of Congress
- National Gallery of Art
- Shakespeare Theatre Company Harman Center for the Arts
- Washington National Cathedral
- White House
- Woolly Mammoth Theatre Company

GETTING Around

Metro prides itself on being one of the most accessible public transportation systems in the world. In addition to a comprehensive website outlining services available to visitors with mobility disabilities, Metro has also compiled a downloadable guide to accessible transportation options throughout the region.

ScootAround offers scooter and wheelchair rentals for a minimum of three days, weekly or for longer periods of time so that you can navigate the city and its attractions with comfort and ease.

Orthopaedic Mobility Rentals provides daily, weekly or monthly rentals throughout the DC metro area.

KNOW BEFORE You Go

GALLAUDET

DC's Gallaudet University has been the educational, political, social and economic engine of the deaf and signing community on a national and global scale for more than 160 years. Free, in-person campus tours are available.

ASL/LANGUAGE SERVICES

For travelers in need of language support and interpreting, download the Jeenie app on your smartphone or iPad for 24/7 assistance, including on-demand American Sign Language interpreting via video chat.

THE CAPITAL OF Sustainability

The nation's capital leads in fostering a sustainable planet by helping local businesses reduce their carbon footprint.

INITIATIVES

- DC is packed with farmers' markets: 20+ throughout the year, including six open year-round. You can find one almost every day of the week and all across the District, with produce, meats and treats to delight. For local greens and welcoming neighborhood vibes, check out a market near you on your next visit at washington.org/farmers.
- DC was the first U.S. city to launch a bike-share system. Capital Bikeshare offers more than 6,000 bikes at over 700 stations across the city. A green, affordable and, best of all, fun way to navigate the city. Check out more sustainability tips and facts at washington.org/sustainability.
- Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA) is investing in a zero-emission fleet to cut air and carbon pollution. WMATA will purchase 100% zero-emission buses (ZEB) by 2027 to build a 100% ZEB fleet by 2042. Clean air for the nation's capital is a priority.

TRAVEL Tips & INFO TO KNOW

FLYING

Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA)

10-minute drive to DC

- Accessible on Metrorail's Blue and Yellow Lines
- Terminal 1 serves the A gates, and Terminal 2 serves the B, C, D and E gates

Washington Dulles International Airport (IAD)

45-minute drive to DC

- Accessible on Metrorail's Silver Line
- Fun Nearby: See the Space Shuttle Discovery at the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum's Udvar-Hazy Center

Baltimore/Washington International Airport (BWI)

45-minute drive to DC

- Shuttles take you to Amtrak and MARC trains bound for DC's Union Station

DRIVING

- Use rideshare apps like Uber to order an on-demand or prescheduled ride
- Hail a taxi easily on busy streets or near well-trafficked landmarks (DC taxis are red with a gray stripe); pay with cash or credit card

BIKING

- DC boasts more than 140 miles of bike lanes and paths
- Capital Bikeshare offers single trip or day passes and has 800+ stations and 8,000 bikes across the metro area
- Rent a sized bike and a helmet from Unlimited Biking, and go on a guided (or self-guided) ride
- Mount Vernon Trail is paved and spans 18 miles; Georgetown's C&O Towpath is unpaved and leads to Cumberland, Md.; Rock Creek Trail is centrally located and connects to nearby trails
- Hail a pedicab, weather permitting

METRO RAIL Travel Tips

- "Metro" not "Subway"
- Don't be an escafeftor: Walk on the left, stand on the right side of the escalators
- Let riders off the train before entering
- If the bell chimes, don't try to board; the doors close firmly and can separate you from your party
- To travel on Metro, you will need a contactless credit/debit card or a SmarTrip card
- Use the same SmarTrip card or contactless card/device to enter and exit
- Visit wmata.com for more info
